What are these meetings about?

In April 2017, two community meetings were held to gather input from the public regarding potential changes to the City's existing accessory dwelling unit (also known as a "second unit") regulations. Following these community meetings, City staff recommended several amendments to the City's existing accessory dwelling unit regulations to the City Council. At the conclusion of the City Council meeting, Council directed staff to conduct additional research and additional community outreach, and return to the City Council with a revised recommendation.

What is the format of the meeting?

Both meetings will be an "open-house" style format where City staff will be available to answer questions and talk one-on-one about the proposed changes to the City's existing accessory dwelling unit regulations. The content of both meetings will be the same. Please attend the meeting that is most convenient for you.

What is the next step?

Staff will return to the City Council with updated recommendations to amend the City's accessory dwelling unit regulations.
